Back in the 1980's, when I was in seminary, I took an introduction to the New Testament. Each day in class my professor would take time for prayer concerns and have a time of prayer. One time there were so many concerns expressed that by the time we were finished there wasn't any time left for the class work.

In March, our mission focus is the America for Christ offering for the work of the American Baptist Home Mission Society (Our goal is $700). The funds raised will support discipleship programs, church planting, volunteer missions, prisoner re-entry and support for refugees all right here in the United States of America.

Also, First Baptist will be hosting the Marion Association youth event on March 13. This meeting gives our young people a chance to meet and become friends with Baptist youth around our association.

In that same time we will work our way through our Lenten Bible study on Sunday nights. It is always good to remember that the study of the Bible, or missions, or youth fellowships, or any other thing the church does when it gets together, takes place in the context of friendships founded upon faith in Christ. Whenever one gathers with others in worship or to serve in any way, we meet with our family in Christ. The Christian Fellowship we share is more important than what we accomplish doing missions or what we learn. It is more important to cultivate relationships than to have knowledge, and building relationships is what missions is all about.

I think my old professor was trying to teach us this lesson and that is why he took time for prayer concerns and was even willing to let it take up the whole class time once in a while. As we gather in bible study on Sunday nights throughout Lent, and support missions and youth ministry, we grow together in Christian Fellowship. And as Easter approaches, I pray that our activities be infused with the divine love towards each other that God has shown to each of us through Jesus Christ.

So let us not forget the vision of the cross, God's Son taking upon himself the sins of the world and our own sins. Let us not forget the empty tomb signifying the victory of life over death, mercy over judgment, fullness over emptiness. And let us meet together throughout this season with the power of those two images fresh in our minds, never forgetting that they are the foundation of our friendship and source of our unity and hope.

America For Christ

God's desire for all who know Him is for us to become more like Christ. We become more like Christ by first growing in our knowledge of Him. It stands to reason that we cannot grow to be like someone we don't know. The deeper our knowledge of Christ, the deeper our understanding of Him, and the more like Him we become. Among other reasons, we are to know and understand Christ so that we will be secure in the faith. The America for Christ Offering 2016 theme "Discipleship; Becoming More Like Christ" reminds us that, as American Baptists, we embody the love of our Lord in word and deed. It reminds us that service is a way of life for Christ's church. Extending the hope, love, and compassion of our Lord to our neighbors and communities is a powerful demonstration that we have been transformed. We are reinvigorated by this year's theme to come alongside people as they journey through life. I am asking you to join me in giving generously to this year's America for Christ Offering and, in doing so, help us to reach our goal of $700 as a church in support of home mission. Last year this was the only one of our four special offerings where we did not reach our goal. Let's turn that around this year.

Change For Change

I know it has only been a few months, but it is time to change our clocks forward, and that means that we will once again be collecting all your loose change. On Sunday morning, March 13, set your clock forward one hour and bring all your loose change to church for a special offering. This money will go to Andrews House to be contributed toward the Delaware summer lunch program for children. Last year we contributed a total of $240.43 from the March and November offerings. Thank you for generously continuing this mission to help eliminate childhood hunger in our own community.

The price is $7 each. The last day to place orders is Palm Sunday, March 20. They will be ordered the next morning so don't miss the deadline.

Quilt Display at Delaware County Library

March 5th through April 2, 30 to 40 quilts will be displayed from the second floor railings made by Delaware Piecemakers and friends. A guide book will be at the reference desk so you can read about who make the quilts (please return the book when you leave so it can be used by others).

Delaware Piecemakers

Delaware Piecemakers Quilt Guild will celebrate National Quilt Day on Saturday, March 19, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall.

As a non-profit group, we donate pillocases to the Hospital for Children (they get to take them home), baby quilts for at-risk children, and other items needed through the Delaware Health Department and Veterans Quilts.

Quilters use their skills to help others and because they just like to quilt. In the past they used outgrown cloths and whatever fabric was available.

Why Do Homemade Quilts Cost So Much?

Since most non-sewers don't know what's involved in making a quilt, I've including a breakdown of cost and time to make one.

Fabric regular size bed (7 yards at $11 a yard)	$77
Back (6 yards at $8 a yard)	48
Batting (3 yards)	36
Binding	11
Construction: cut, sew, borders, labels	132
Cut, attach binding, hand sew finish (8 hours)	88
Total	$545

Of course, hand quilting takes longer and costs more – intricate machine quilting costs more. But you could also go to Walmart or Kohls and get a quilt for $40 for $60 from China! But be careful of the long stitches, they are not 10 to 12 per inch like our mothers used to make.
